INTRODUCTION

Fenex Timber Windows

Fenex is a brand of timber windows created in 2008. Our ambition is to become a key player in the European bespoke wood window market.

Our production site is based in Silivri near Istanbul, Turkey. We take a holistic approach, from sawing the timber to installing the windows on site. Our manufacturing facility employs 200 professionals with an average of 8 years' service. Each employee has a customer-oriented approach to their work.

Fenex has a production capacity of 150 frames per day in an industrial site of 8500 sqm. Our range of 13 different product types have been designed to fit effortlessly into the requirements of your project.

Today, Fenex is a major supplier of alu-clad and wood windows across Europe.

The Fenex signature exists under numerous projects of architectural significance. Supplier of windows to entire Europe, Fenex has consistently participated in the evolution of the construction market. Our products are CE certificated, a guarantee of their quality. Almost all our windows and doors bear Q-Mark and are SBD certified. Our FSC certificate demonstrates the total traceability of our products and their wooden raw materials.

To us, ecological thinking is essential to the conception and production of high performing products.

All scraps and waste wood materials are used for heating. Our EIA (Environmental Impact Assessment) documents show the environmental character of our products throughout their life span.

The products were introduced to UK with our first project in London in 2015. In this highly competitive market, Fenex is distinguished by the high quality of its products, appreciated by all its clients.

The UK subsidiary, Fenex Windows Limited, with its central London showroom, brings solutions that are perfectly adapted to the UK market.

From your very first contact with Fenex, we work closely with you to understand your needs and requirements. Our account managers are experts in safety, as well as thermal and acoustic insulation. They will provide you with a bespoke solution and help you choose the products that are right for your project.

The Fenex Quality Promise, which exceeds the standards of most windows, means you can be confident in your choice of Fenex products.

This promise has largely contributed to the excellent reputation of our timber windows appreciated by many architects and contractors in UK.
